

PATTERNS-ISTANBUL the project

*Both nature and politics delimit/cut territories, move frontiers.
Anyway, behind the moving of lines, the power-games and strategies, deep signs are hidden*

The project “Patterns” is based on the idea of overlapping and matching the body – the boundary as to the external world – to the territory.

In “PATTERNS ISTANBUL” portions of the territory marked in the map of the city of Istanbul that are especially related to the inhabitants of the city by their personal experience, will be redrawn and transferred to paper patterns for the production of clothes.

PATTERNS ISTANBUL will become a platform to activate an established network of people and places, that will constitute a creative way of relationship between the subjects and the cultural territory they are related to.

“PATTERNS ISTANBUL” by Bernardo Giorgi and Cinzia Cozzi sponsored by Berliner Senate, with the partnership of the BM Contemporary Art Center supported by the partners Human Settlement NGO Cittadellarte – Fondazione Pistoletto Love Difference with the collaboration of: Bilgi University, Technic University, Goethe Institut, Italian Institute of Culture, Platform Garanti
